

JEWISH THOUGHT AND THEOLOGY

Three Public Lectures by Eugene Korn

Monday, March 20, 2006

Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago Common Room (350)

- 9:30-10:45 a.m. Significance of the Image of God in Jewish Thought
- 1:00-3:50 p.m. Jewish Thought about the Unity of God and the Christian Doctrine of the Trinity
- 4:30-6:00 p.m. Israel, the Jewish People, and Jewish-Christian Relations in the 21st Century

All lectures free and open to the public without registration

Eugene Korn is National Director of Jewish Affairs at the American Jewish Congress, where he is responsible for programs in interfaith relations and Jewish identity. Dr. Korn also serves as Adjunct Professor of Jewish Thought in the Department of Christian-Jewish Studies at Seton Hall University and is a distinguished scholar in the areas of Jewish law and philosophy, Israel and Jewish-Christian relations.

Dr. Korn is a former Judaic Scholar at the Jewish Federation at Metrowest (NJ), and Director of Leadership Education and Development at the Shalom Hartman Institute of Jerusalem. He has published widely on topics ranging from Israel and religious tradition to Jewish attitudes toward non-Jewish cultures, from religious extremism and Jewish values to business ethics. Dr. Korn is editor of The Edah Journal-A Forum for Modern Orthodox Discourse.

